PURPOSE AND PROGRAMS

The National Coalition for the Homeless is the positive result of a committed group of social activists who in 1981 won landmark litigation to protect the rights of homeless people to shelter and voting. Today, NCH continues its strong social justice work by providing a national platform for “first person” homeless voices. NCH’s mission is to end homelessness and believes that the unhoused must be recognized for their natural worth and respected for their innate dignity. To that end, NCH works towards creating the systemic change through its grassroots organizing and public education around issues of housing, healthcare, economic justice and civil rights.
